SIDNEY THOMAS'S GREAT RACE. Smashing the World's Amateur Hunning Records in London,

Sidney Thomas. England's champion amateur long-distance runner, who is well known in America, has been juggling with world's records. Thomas represented the Manhattan A. C. while here, but never displayed the form he showed in England. His failure was doubt-less due to climatic influences, for immediately upon his return to his native country he got into championship form, and has been running splendidly ever since. He won the ten-mile running championship of the defunct National Association of Amateur Athletes while here, covering the distance in 53 minutes 58% seconds, but was subsequently beaten by Willie Day in 52 minutes 38% sec-

The Sporting Life. London, says: "Thomas's time for fifteen miles is only 15 2-5 seconds slower than the best professional time, I hour 22 minutes, which was made by J. J. Howitt in London forty years ago, and is not generally credited as being correct. At that time the tracks and watches were not very accurate." The Manhattan A. C. Wheeling Division.

The wheeling division of the Manhattan Athletic Club is now in a flourishing condition. Director of Cycling R. B. Moneypenny is arranging for an active season for his department. It was intended to hold two cycling meets at the Manhattan Field this season, but the tournament scheduled for June 4 has been abandoned on account of the possible delay that will occur in getting the track in shape that will occur in getting the track in shape after the cattle show. The second annual tournament of the club will be held on Aug. 27. The division intends making application during the week for membership in the League of American Wheelmen.

The Manhattan team will consist of Mossrs. Uradio, Berlo, Worden. G. Banker. H. Arnold. Heas, Stilger, Sacdey, Wheeler, Morril, A. C. Banker, and Ward this season. The first four men will represent the club at all the big tournaments. The track at Manhattan Field is to be rebuilt this year. The racing men will commence training there next week.

THAT WHOLESALE SUSPENSION.

It to Likely to Lead to the Organization of a Boxers' League,

The wholesale suspension of "amateur" boxors at Friday night's meeting of the Metropolitan Association's Board of Managers was, of course, the all-absorbing topic in athletic circles yesterday. It is, perhaps, needless to say that a majority of the boxers and several of the gentlemen who have been managing said boxers, for obvious reasons, did not take the action of the authorities in good grace. It is probable that Jim Lavelle voiced a general sentiment when he perti-nently remarked: "This Curtis gives me a pain. I've a good mind to pull his whiskers." "Father Bill" has certainly managed the campaign thus far with much generalship. He has not an iota of evidence against the sus-pended men, and knows it would be difficult, if not impossible, to secure the necessary proof to convict. So he develops a strain of diplomacy, and informs the suspended men that if any boxer wishes to prove his innocence he can "submit to the committee a de-tailed statement of every competition or exhibition in which he has taken part since Oct 1, 1891; that he should state in each case the prize which was offered, and that he should also submit to the committee for inspection all the prizes which he has won since that date." If Mr. Curtis had asked the boxers to interpret the hieroglyphics on the obelisk he would have set them a far easier task.

But a study of the situation shows that the But a study of the situation shows that the boxers will not fare badly, after all. They will simply have to stop masquerading and come out in their true colors. There will be fully as many tournaments, and as the men are now free to box six, eight, ten, or an unlimited number of rounds, a finish fight if they choose, the tourneys will prove far more actractive, and consequently draw more people. The A. A. U. limit of three rounds was always a cause of much dissatisfaction. When two cracks of even calibre come together a convincing conclusion cannot be obtained in three rounds.

It is argued now that the Amateur Athlotic Union has withdrawn its protection, so called, from these boxers. The police will put them on a par with the genuline professionals, and there may be trouble in "pulling off" the tourneys. There is no certainty that this will be the casa. Even so, a project to form an Amateur Boxers' League is already under discussion. There is no law which gives the Amateur Athletic Union jurisdiction to decide whether a man is an anateur or not. All that body can do is to declare him a professional under an interpretation of its own laws and prohibit him from competing at A. A. U. meetings. If an "amateur" tournament is advertised under the rules of the Amateur Boxers' League it is not likely that the police will undertake to make the fine distinction which body has jurisdiction over amateur boxing. Of course it would not be policy to permit men known to be professionals to hox under the auspices of the Sww organization. The boxing clubs now in the Metropolitan Association and the many which have not entered its sacred portals would make a formidable league. The A. A. U. could not consistently recognize this newcomer, but its clubs could give boxing tournaments and have the suspended men competie by simply announcing a tourney under no rules whatever. It is not probable that the Amateur Boxers' League would insist upon the men competing under A. B. L. rules. "Get the coin" would be its platform. A check to its boxers will not fare badly, after all. They will simply have to stop masquerading and come

The men in charge of the Y. M. I. are planning some fine times for their charges the coming summer. WILLIAMSTOWN, April 23.-The Williams baseball team has taken a decided brace during the past ten days, and from present appearances is not altogether out of the championship race. It is not a strong team yet, but is strengthening, and on this fact the college bases whatever hope it has. Towne, '94, who covered first on the spring trip, has been re-lieved from his position, and Beach, '94, substituted. Beach has thus far played in fine form, his two last games being errorless. Ide. '95, has taken the place of Lynch, '95, injured, at short stop, and is covering the ground better than Lynch did. Both of these men will remain on the team permanently. Draper, '15, has been tried as catcher instead of C. Hollister, and, although not an improvement, he is steady and a hard worker, and may hold the position permanently.

If Williams had a *first-class catcher she would have a powerful battery, as J. Hollister is pitching a stiff game. Capt. Howard, Manager Williams, and Safford, an alumnus who is coaching the team, are straining every narve to bring the boys into crack shape. Their task is a hard one, but it is still early in the season, and there is time to improve before the first championship games.

The schedule of games thus far arranged for the freshman leam is as follows: May 4. Williston at East Hampton: May 11, Ridgefield Juniors on Weston Field: May 18, Greenfield Athletic Club at Greenfield; May 24, Phillips Academy at Andover; May 25, Phillips Academy at Exeter; June 1, Amherst freshmen at Greenfield.
